

International Marketing Award

Industrial Marketing Solutions wins top International Marketing Award

The National Marketing and Sales Awards (NMSA) is organised to recognise excellence in sales and marketing practice in Ireland (North and South). Sponsored by the Marketing Institute of Ireland and Irish Independent Newspapers the event is held annually and covers all industry sectors and company sizes.

One of the main awards, International Marketing Person of the Year, was awarded in 2004 to Industrial Marketing Solutions founder, Kevin Moran. This award was recognition for the successful implementation of international marketing principles which resulted in significant sales and channel growth for an Irish company.

Kevin is an MBS and BComm Graduate from the National University of Ireland Galway (NUIG).

About Industrial Marketing Solutions :

We are a sales, marketing and channel development agency specializing in the electronics, engineering and industrial markets. Located in Ireland and the UK we primarily work with companies looking to develop European markets for their products. Unlike other agencies we will manage projects from start to finish, working as your outsourced partner in both planning and implementation.
